

Continuing education for the use of live animals in scientific purposes

LABORATORY ANIMAL LAWS, REGULATIONS, GUIDELINES AND STANDARDS IN EUROPE AND FRANCE (RODENTS)

25 octobre 2024

Goals	<ul style="list-style-type: none">➤ be up to date on the European and French regulation and legislative framework for animal research➤ know the GMO regulations and its consequences for animal research➤ be aware of the ethical device in animal research
Public	Technicians, engineers, researchers, teachers-researchers, doctoral students.
Pre-requisite	Training for non-French speakers Basic knowledges in the use of live animals in scientific purposes.
Program	<ul style="list-style-type: none">➤ Introduction to animal research➤ regulatory framework for animal testing➤ regulations for the use of genetically modified animals in a confined environment➤ the ethical device in animal experimentation
Methods	Training in English <ul style="list-style-type: none">➤ Lectures.➤ Practical training.➤ Teaching materials, bibliography and documentation are given to the participants In addition to specific training, the use of live animals for scientific purposes requires a continuous training of 3 days every 6 years. This training day validates one day of continuing education to be included in the skills bookle
Infos pratiques	Lieu : Paris On line registration : https://www.sirene.inserm.fr/ Deadline for registration for employees Inserm inscription : July 4, 2024
Contact	Christina LADJYN-ABAUZIT Chargée de formation christina.ladjyn@inserm.fr formation.dr-paris6@inserm.fr Tél : 01.48.07.34.38	INSERM DR Paris-IDF Centre Est Bâtiment A - Biopark 8, Rue de la Croix Jarry 75013 paris